(Special to The Bulletin.)

Washington, D. C., April 9, 1914.— Preliminary figures from the forthcoming bulletin pertaining to national and state indebtedness and funds and investments have been given out by Director W. J. Harris, of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. The bulletin carries information for the state of Connecticut, as well as for the other states and the United States. The data were compiled under the supervision of John Lee Coulter, expert special agent in charge of the inquiry on wealth, debt and taxation.

The bulletin which will account to $1,456,000, but decreased again to $46,000 in 1912.
In the case of funds and investments the securities show but little change throughout the period, being $2,121,000 in 1890 and $2,022,000 in 1912, while the cash naturally fluctuated more or less from year to year from a minimum of $235,000 in 1991 to a maximum of $2,2424,000 in 1912. No sinking fund assets, as such, are found in Connecticut, thus leaving the debt less sinking fund assets the same as the total debt.

The per capita debt of the state followed the fluctuations of the total debt but was appreciably reduced by the steady increase in population.

well as for the other states and the United States. The data were compiled under the supervision of John Lee Coulter, expert special agent in charge of the inquiry on wealth, debt and taxation.

The bulletin, which will soon be issued, will contain statistics for each state for each year from 1890 to 1913, inclusive, as far as statistics are available, and will also contain details for the year most nearly corresponding to 1880, thus making it possible to show the general movement during a period of over 20 years. The bulletin will show the total debt of the states as well as many details, such as the various classes of outstanding bonds and special debt obligations to public trust funds. It will also show the floating debt and its component parts. Under "Funds and Investments" will be shown separately all the different funds, and in each case cash and securities will be shown. The population of the states for each year under consideration will be used, and the 48 states, the per capita, according to the latest report, is $3.52, or slightly more than half of the per capita debt of the state for each the fluctuations of the state followed the fluctuations of the state followed the fluctuations of the total debt.

The per capita debt of the state furcease in population.

In 1880 the total debt of $32,4000; and by 1912 had increased to $924,000; and by 1912 had in curities will be shown. The population of the states for each year under consideration will be used, and the per capita debt (less sinking fund assets) will be given.

An inspection of the tables for Connecticut in the bulletin soon to be issued shows a fluctuating bonded indebtedness which fell from $3,740,000 in 1989 to $874,000 in 1908; in 1909 there was an issue of $1,000,000 the per capita debt (less sinking fund assets) will be given.

An inspection of the tables for Connecticut in the bulletin soon to be issued shows a fluctuating bonded indebtedness which fell from $3,740,000 in 1890 to $874,000 in 1908; in 1908 there was an issue of $1,000,000, the amount being increased with each year until 1912, when the state had outstanding bonds amounting to $7,064,000. The floating debt was small and fluctuated slightly until 1910, when
